DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-17 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Claim 5, select one or one combination of tumor marker.

Claim 6 and 13, select one solid tumor.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

A method for detection in a patient for having a cancer selected from the species recited in claim 6 by detecting the expression of H19 RNA in a specimen.

Art Unit: 1636

A method for detection in a patient for having a cancer by detecting the expression marker of H19 and another tumor marker or another combination of the tumor marker selected from claims 5 and 13.

The following claim(s) are generic: Claims 1-4, 7-12, 14-17.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the different type of cancer selected from claims 6 and 13 each is a different type of disease, and each has different disease mechanisms and symptoms. As such, the method of detecting one cancer does not share the same special technical feature from the other because besides detecting RNA of H19, correlating the expression with the existence of each type of different cancer comprises different steps. Therefore, the recited cancer species lack same special technical feature.

Similarly, the markers recited in claim 5 each has different structure and function, and does not share a same or corresponding technical feature with each other. As such, a method for detecting a specific type of cancer using one of the markers combined with H19 RNA does not share the same special technical feature with another marker or another combination of markers together with H19. Therefore, the species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
